

Could you help drive Herefordshire's Tourism Revolution and be part of TeamESL?

Due to increased demand, we are looking for an additional motivated self-starter to work on our membership and advertising sales, on a self-employed basis.

The role demands face to face and telephone contact, administration processes, and therefore good communication skills with a pleasant demeanour, organisation and efficiency are essential.

A knowledge of and a passion for all things Herefordshire, its people and businesses is key, we all eat, sleep and live Herefordshire.

The successful candidate can expect an excellent sales based commission rate and the flexibility of arranging own appointments with clients, while working from home. Therefore you will need your own phone, car and office station. Experience of direct selling and evidence of your track record will be required.
